CAREER SUMMARY

A performer since her formative years, her talents lead her to success as a professional dancer in Argentina. Her passion for the arts and her desire to grow brought her to New York City in 2018. She is now committed as a full-time performer and educator in one of the world's biggest markets. Mica's goal as a teacher is to provide the students with tools to reach their potential, understanding not only the mechanisms and technique but also finding their uniqueness as artists. She hopes to inspire her students, dancers and colleagues with her dedication, passion, and her inspiring journey.
